

CPD EVENT RECORD - LEARNING BY ONESELF

THE EVIDENCE BASE AND OVERWHELM

with Joanne Elphinston

Summary

This discussion focuses on the challenges and pressures that healthcare practitioners, particularly those in manual therapy fields like osteopathy and chiropractic, face with the increasing emphasis on evidence-based practice. The complex nature of human patients often does not fit neatly into the protocols and algorithms that evidence-based practice can promote. This can lead to feelings of overwhelm, self-doubt, and fear among practitioners.
