THE SCIENCE OF FASCIA

with Dr Robert Schleip PhD

Recording:
Learning
by Oneself

Summary

In this discussion Dr Schleip outlined new research showing how therapeutic interventions can increase hyaluronan in the tissues, thereby improving the movement of fascia. He was clear about what had been shown through research and what was theoretical, but it was evident that the findings had great potential not only to explain how certain forms of treatment work, but to influence how we use those modalities in the future.
